

Nighttown

Nighttown is a jazz club, supper club and Irish tavern awash in '40s-era nostalgia. The nightspot attracts sophisticates of all ages, from senior couples to families to after-work drinkers to, later at night, affluent professionals in their 30s. The jazz is the best in town, including top national acts such as the Godfathers of Groove and the Count Basie Orchestra. Huge vintage posters, including vivid war-bond ads, decorate the dining room, mounted close together in a 19th-century European salon style. The blend of class and culture makes it easy for romance to bloom over a table for two. And the dark, intimate bar near the door, like the shadowy, trench-coated figure in the restaurant's logo, evokes intrigue. Pièce de Résistance: A wild, almost impressionistic Viktor Schreckengost print of a sax, trumpet and French horn given to owner Brendan Ring by Schreckengost himself. The Cost: Pub food $10-$15, cover charge averages about $20 The Customer: Music-lovers and mellow, cosmopolitan diners 12387 Cedar Road, Cleveland Heights; nighttowncleveland.com
